2010 Johnston Baseball Clinic

Pitching, catching, fielding and hitting
for the coach and player

February 6 - 7, 2010
Johnston High School

INTRODUCTION

These clinics are designed to give the baseball player and their coach as much information and assistance as possible in one session.

Our staff will share their years of high school, professional and collegiate baseball experience and give insight into becoming an accomplished baseball player.

Our outstanding clinic staff will combine to provide instruction on pitching, catching, hitting and fielding techniques and fundamentals. In addition to lecture and demonstration, mechanics will be analyzed and helpful hints will be given to all participants. The player should be able to take this information home and practice these skills, thereby adding a new dimension to his playing prowess.
