

Scottish Continuity

Resilient Scotland Conference

Monday, 5th December 2011 | 9.15am – 4.15pm

The Scottish Parliament, Holyrood Road, Edinburgh, EH99 1SP

Sponsored by Paul Grice, Clerk/Chief Executive – Scottish Parliament

This one day conference has been designed for delegates to

- Learn more about current business continuity including both the Cabinet Office and Scottish Government views on resilience. The Head of Business Continuity and Crisis Management for the 2012 Olympics will talk about both the threats they are planning for, as well as issues they have seen.
- Enhance your organisation's resilience.
- Build resilient communities.
- Better understand category 1 and 2 responder roles and network with link-minded continuity professionals.

The afternoon session will be a table-top scenario exercise, designed and facilitated by Price Waterhouse Coopers. This exercise has been designed to allow input, discussion and responses from as many sectors as possible. This will offer attendees an opportunity to interact with responders, agencies and businesses to whom they may not normally have access.
