How To Discover Your Dream Life

Value: Happiness and contentment come from living your dream life. Yet many of us are unsure of exactly what we want out of life. Participants are given steps that teach them how to develop a career and life plan based on what they really want out of life!

Best Audiences: Those in search of a meaningful career and life. Including but not limited to executives, doctors, lawyers and students.

What participants will learn:

- How determining your career path based on vision is different than traditional approaches
- What tools they should use to determine what they want from life
- How to use the wants they uncover to create a plan to live that life they dream of
