

Calling all students, professionals, advocates and other concerned parties! Join together to raise awareness about the fight against human trafficking from January 11, 2010 to February 12, 2010.

The San Francisco Collaborative Against Human Trafficking (SFCaHT), a collaborative of nonprofits and governmental agencies, is organizing a campaign to raise awareness about human trafficking from January 11, 2010, the International Human Trafficking Awareness Day, to February 12, 2010, Abraham Lincoln's birthday.

We want to invite you to join us in this month-long awareness campaign against Human Trafficking.

Currently, we are planning a press conference at the Mayor's office, a panel discussion by service providers, a film night and a couple of additional events. We plan to spread the word about this month long opportunity and encourage schools, churches, clubs and concerned individuals to organize events during this month.

We want to show a coalition of action in the San Francisco area. The more awareness raised, the stronger the demonstration to human traffickers that San Francisco will not shut its eyes to the atrocity of human trafficking.

Please send information about your event to Kate Kerr at kkerr@freedom-house.us.com by December 20th to be included in the joint enterprise and advertisement. SFCaHT will be advertising information on websites and through multi-lingual news outlets. Please see the San Francisco's Human Rights Commission's website for more information, <http://www.sfhrc.org/index.aspx?page=58>.

Please spread the word about the goals for the Awareness Month from January 11 to February 12, 2010 to friends and colleagues.
