

Babies need more care than plants, animals and non-living things because they are all God's children. Plants just need water and sunlight. Babies need love and someone to teach them how to do things like walking and talking. Babies also need someone to teach them right and wrong. Babies need someone to teach them how to be a good person and make good choices. Plants don't have to make decisions but people do.