Respect Life Essay

Congratulations on being born!

I would like to tell you that the world is perfect but it is not. There is a lot going on that makes it hard to see the good in people and all that we have been given by God.

You being born helps keep the world alive. A baby brings smiles to those around them. Look at the beautiful blue sky and feel the soft green grass as you sit and learn to crawl. You will hear the birds chirp and the dogs bark. You will see people running around from place to place always in a hurry. Everything you see and hear, God created for us to enjoy.

I promise that I will respect the environment and keep our oceans, cities and parks clean so that you can experience them as they were supposed to be. I promise to take time and just look and feel what is around me like you do and see through your eyes of amazement. I will do my best to be a good person and make a difference in this world so if we meet someday, you will know that there is someone who cares in this world.
