

Respect for Life Essay

God has given us the power to be the stewards of the earth, the environment and to be in control of all plants and animals. The top dog. God put us on top because he gave us the power to reason. We have the ability to make good choices for the earth and helping other people. But do we always do our duties about being on top of the pyramid? Do we put human life first? Do we take care of our environment?

One way we don't put human life first is when we let abortions happen. Another way is when people put animals before other humans. One example is by taking their dogs to the salon or beauty parlor instead of spending the money on those who have no food. One way we put humans first is by testing new drugs on animals to see if they will help cure human diseases.

Some of the ways we don't take care of our environment is by littering or polluting the air. When we litter in the sea, fish and animals can accidentally swallow and choke on the garbage. If the air is polluted it makes it hard to breathe and plants can't grow. We have special days to help our environment like "spare the air" day when fires aren't allowed. We also have earth day where we go out and clean up the beaches.

God gave us the ability to reason so we can put human life first and still take care of the plants, animals, and our environment.
