Survey finds top 25 employers to work for in Canada

Canadian university and college students believe working for the government is their best option, a survey released last week found.

The 2010 Canada's Top Campus Employers Report surveyed 27,000 university and college students, including international students, asking them to select from a list which employers they would most like to work in Canada for. Respondents were also invited to nominate a preferred employer if they were not included.

A survey has found 25 of the top employers to work for in Canada.

Fourteen of the 25 top employers selected were governments, of all levels, government related agencies, and non-profit organizations.

Graham Donald, one of the reports co-authors, says that the choices reflect a desire among young people to do meaningful and interesting work but the stability and high pay of government jobs was also a major consideration.

Some 57 per cent of respondents were looking for job security and the prospect of staying with a company or organization for life.

The top employers to work for in Canada are:

1. Government of Canada
2. Provincial Government
3. Apple
4. Health Canada
5. Google
