Take the Plunge

Change Your Water Today,
Change Your Health For Life

How Will Your Water Affect Your Future?

Over the course of your lifetime, you will put more water into your body than any other food or drink. This means that water is essential to your health.

Unfortunately, what may appear to be safe or clean water may not be safe drinking water. Some of the most harmful toxins are undetectable and do not change the way your water looks or tastes. Research shows that several types of cancer can be attributed to the presence of these toxins in drinking water.

We encourage homeowners with private wells to test your water today. At Thursty Water Systems, we are dedicated to ensuring clean, healthy water that will benefit your future. Please feel free to contact our office to learn how we can help you, or stop by our office off Route 109A in Wolfeboro to pick up your water test kit.

August Tips: Three Ways to Save

1. Keep the window shades closed when your air conditioner is running: Did you know that sunny windows account for 40% of unwanted heat in your home? This makes your air conditioner work 2-3 times harder. Remember, close the shades to keep your cool, and save money.

2. Unplug what you're not using: Your phone charger or laptop charger, stereo and television produce heat and require electricity even when you're not using them. Avoid extra heat and save money on your electric bill by unplugging what you're not using.

3. Wash your clothes in cold water: Detergents formulated for cold water will clean clothes just as well, and you'll save on heating costs.

NH DES Reminds Residents to Conserve Water

"When the well is dry, we know the worth of water."

-Benjamin Franklin

Lower than average rainfall this spring, coupled with the current heat spell has led New Hampshire officials to ask homeowners to conserve water.

New Hampshire is not under a drought declaration, but the Department of Environmental Services says water conservation is especially important during dryer-than-normal conditions.

The DES has prepared a series of guidance documents that assist homeowners with reducing water use both inside and outside of the home.
