Spring Buds

A few years ago Dave and I planted two dwarf fruit trees in our back yard - one peach and one nectarine. They grow right outside my home office window. They distract me, in a good way. Last week they distracted me so much I decided I had to share them with you, so I went outside with my camera. They are truly beautiful right now.

It seemed like just a few weeks ago the trees were deep in their winter slumber - all the branches lean, brown and barren. Then the change began. I looked one day and the trees seemed fuller. I had go outside and really look to see it.

Every branch was covered with small swellings. No color yet. They were hardly noticeable at first. Every few days I would go outside and check. But yes, it was really happening! The tree was getting ready ... until one day I saw it. The first pink bursts of color.

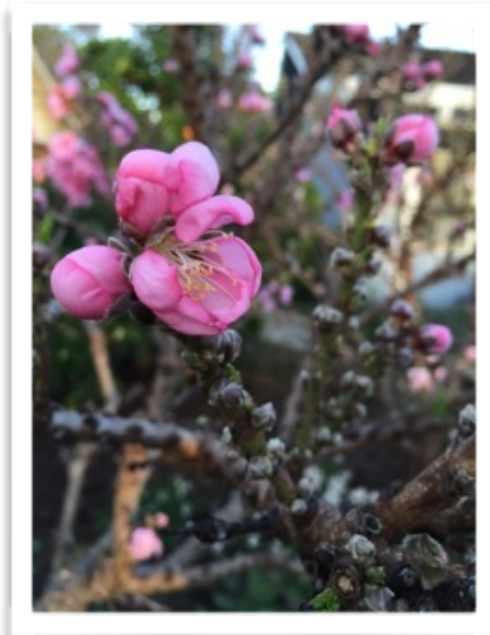

Fruit trees don't do this new life of spring thing in a small way. They announce it with a riot of color. In a few days the trees will be covered in pink, a sign to the world that they are ready bear fruit, do what God made them to do!

This month of March we will journey together though Lent and into the Easter season, spending time, figuratively at least, in our barren, lean times of inward preparation. And then, at the end of the month, in joyous, bright celebration of the new life we know through the life, death and resurrection of Christ.

What may be budding in us this season? What 'fruit' is God creating in us to share, just under the surface maybe, needing just a bit more light and warmth to burst forth.

We may not find ourselves covered in pink this Easter season, not quite as flamboyant as those fruit trees, but may this be a time of journey and discovery and life anew in Christ.

In Faith, Evie

February 2016 Session Meeting

The Session met on February 9, 2016, in the home of Emily Duffus at 5:30 p.m.

Moderator, Evie Macway, opened the meeting with prayer.

The Clerk shared the email she had received from one of our missionaries in the field: Bernie Adeney-Risakotta, who with his wife, Farsijana, is in Indonesia. They expect to be in California part of July and all of August. He asked if Trinity would like them to visit on August 14 or 21. The mission committee will pursue inviting the Adeney-Risakottas to Trinity when they are in the country.

Reporting about Immanuel House in San Jose, Juanita Stock said the house now has seven residents from Afghanistan, including two children. She also pointed out that it was reported at the last Presbytery meeting that Presbytery's membership is down to about 5,800 members since several congregations requesting dismissal have left.

Pastor Evie announced that Jane DeVette will chair the Nominating Committee; Ed Sams, the Stewardship Committee.

Committee Reports included the following:

Administration: The Session approved the use of the Square 1 credit charging system. The committee agreed to purchase an iPad to utilize the system. The committee also reported on Beth Hooley's revision to the Poplar Street plantings. One unexpected expense concerned the Poplar House. The family room flooded when we had so much rain in January. To fix the water pump will cost $3,000 - $5,000.

Worship and Christian Education: Kevin Day will preach on March 13. Jerry Van Marter, former Director of Communication for PCUSA, will preach on April 3, and Evie will assist. Vacation Bible Camp is scheduled for July 18 – 22. The theme is "Catch the Wave of the Amazing Love of God." Nicki will provide music.

Dates to mark on your calendar:

- Parish Luncheon Sunday, March 20 following worship.
- Easter is on March 27. The Blanchards will again host the Easter Sunrise Service.

After hearing a number of prayer concerns, it was MSP to adjourn the meeting with prayer.

Next meeting will be March 9, 2016, at 5:30 p.m. in the Fireside Room.

Mission Update

Two members of our congregation, Paul Seever and George Bunch, have taken leadership roles in local mission organizations. Paul is now serving as the chairperson of the Faith Community Shelter Board. George serves as president of the Santa Cruz al Salvador Board of Directors. We know both boards are blessed with these capable leaders and we appreciate the ways in which Paul and George strengthen Trinity's connections and opportunities for service in these two mission areas.

- To have church member, Amanda Bell preach at Trinity in early February. She inspired and challenged us with her sharing of her faith and life in this way.
- To have the Boy Scouts join us in worship on Valentine’s Day. It is always a pleasure to have the troop that meets at Trinity join us for Boy Scout Sunday. As always, they hosted a delicious coffee hour for us as well!
- The generosity of the Trinity family in helping with Fatima’s green card - so far $640 has been gifted.
- To see the beautiful new landscaping in the yard on the Poplar Avenue side of the property. See the photo below! The project is not quite finished but thank you to Beth Hooley for her design and to the many folks who are helping to bring the design to the soil.

The Non-Prophet Corner

Darrell W. Yeane, Parish Associate

“God and Country”

My older brother and I became charter members of “Den 31” when our mother became Den Mother of a group of Cub Scouts meeting in the basement of our house. I was nine years old and worked my way from “Wolf” to “Lion” rank and joined the Boy Scout Troop at the age of 12 to continue my scouting career through to the Eagle rank. But my pride and joy was to earn the “God and Country” award that Scouting gives for active service in the church or other religious group.

I relate this “ancient” personal story as an indication of my early life acceptance of the normative equivalent identity of God and country by most American Christians. Religion and Patriotism tend to be identical for many Church going Americans; that is, until one happens to run into a recognition of value conflict between one’s faith and one’s patriotism.

Sorting out these value distinctions is an important work of maturing that is sometimes neglected by people who simply incorporate their religion in support of their patriotism. But as St. Paul wrote, “when I was a child, I thought and felt like a child. But when I became a man, I put away childish things.”

Our Nation’s founding Fathers (sic) recognized the error of “deifying” the state and so wrote the clause into the First Amendment to the Constitution which has been interpreted as “creating a wall of separation between church and state..” But it is an institutional “wall” not an ethical one.

It is imperative that Christians and other religious faith groups engage in serious thought and discussion to try to discern what God is saying to us today about our life in the American political and economical world and its often less than Christian values that negatively impact poor people, people of color and yes, people who affirm other religious traditions than ours.

The current political campaigns of both major political parties provide us with a rather exaggerated exposé of these value conflicts. It may be difficult to discern the “sheep” from the “wolves” among those running for political office, but avoiding the effort of Christian ethical discernment may mean we have indiscriminately abandoned our faith allegiance to a narrow political partisan one.

That is why Trinity congregation, the Progressive Christian Forum, the Presbytery of San Jose and the Presbyterian Church (USA) are frequently engaged in discussion, discernment and action regarding many of the political and economic choices facing our nation and world. Loyalty to both God and country demand that we mature from childhood naïveté to adult discernment. Avoidance of conflict is no solution. If we think it is, we have misunderstood the life and teaching of Jesus our Lord.

Announcing the World Mission Matching Campaign for Spring 2016

A group of our committed donors has pledged to match all gifts sent for mission personnel support, up to $30,000, through March 27, 2016. This means your gift of $50 today will be matched with another $50 to provide $100 for Presbyterian World Mission. Or perhaps you can give $500, which will become $1,000 when matched. We urge you to take advantage of this wonderful opportunity to double your gift's impact. When you give online (<https://www.presbyterianmission.org/donate/make-a-gift/gift-info/E132192>), please write "matching gift" in the comments field.

One Great Hour of Sharing

A gift to One Great Hour of Sharing enables the church to share God's love with our neighbors-in-need around the world by providing relief to those affected by natural disasters, providing food to the hungry, and helping to empower the poor and oppressed.

Through your gifts to One Great Hour of Sharing, you can serve people in your community and around the world by alleviating hunger, rebuilding after crises or catastrophe, and working with communities to overcome oppression.

Please consider giving to this annual special offering of the Presbyterian Church, U.S.A. We will receive this offering here at Trinity on Easter Sunday.

Ways to Give, Both Old and New

Each Sunday we see the offering plates filling with cash and checks as the congregation expresses its financial generosity for Trinity.

In an effort to make donations as convenient as possible Trinity has added the ability to accept credit card payments. While the church is charged three percent for the use of this system, we want to make it as easy as possible for our supporters. We hope this will be of use, particularly when it comes to special fundraisers such as One Great Hour of Sharing and the annual Boutique.

These are not the only ways the church receives financial support from its members and guests. Going unseen are the pledge payments we receive by regularly scheduled bank transfers. Also the church accepts the transfer of stocks and IRA distributions. There can be tax advantages to using these latter methods, and one should consult their tax advisor before undertaking this way of giving.

If you want more information about any of these methods of giving please feel free to talk to me.

Bob Scott, Collecting Treasurer

We celebrate with Leon Wong at the birth of his third grandchild. Maris Leon McFarlane Wong was born in Seattle February 3, 2016. Leon has two granddaughters who live here in Santa Cruz.

The Importance of a Common Meal

by Paul Seever

Each Wednesday evening Trinity is host to a group of about twenty women, children and men who gather at our Fellowship Hall at about 5:00 p.m., share a meal together, and spend the night sleeping on mats spread out on the floor. In the morning they stash the mats, share a quick breakfast, restore the room to pristine condition, and go on their way. Several other churches provide similar settings on the other six nights of each week. We call this activity the Faith Community Shelter.

When we started this mission almost four years ago we recognized that, while the safety and relative comfort of a place to sleep inside was an important benefit, for the program to work in the long run it would be necessary for the participants to form community. Otherwise there would inevitably be conflict leading to chaos. And so it has turned out. Community has been the healing agent that has allowed many to build their confidence and connections so that they can manage jobs and permanent housing.

We all know that sharing a common meal is a fundamental way in which we humans build community. What would church life be without pot-lucks, coffee hour and the sacrament of Holy Communion? So, from the very beginning, we have provided a meal for the participants each Wednesday evening. Prior to the meal the host for that evening gathers the group in a circle and offers a blessing, sometimes in the form of a silent prayer. Sharing that blessing and the meal that follows has turned out to be a moving and rewarding experience for both the receivers and the hosts.

Most of the time just four of our families have provided the meals and acted as hosts. We divide the month up by weeks: the Mays do the first week of the month, Paul Seever does the second, Ellen Bauerle and Laura Hamby the third, and the Yeaneys the fourth. In addition Juanita Stock, Emily Duffus, and Karen Wichelman provide food for breakfasts.

It has been a labor of love, but it is time that it should be shared more broadly. Many of us would be able to participate by providing a meal, or part of a meal from time to time. Please consider joining in this mission by contacting any of the above mentioned providers. You will find that it can be a truly rewarding experience.

Fourth Tuesday Luncheon

The March 22 Fourth Tuesday Lunch will feature Santa Cruz Shakespeare and Piano and Clarinet Music. Newly relocating to DeLaVeaga Park, Santa Cruz Shakespeare should be an interesting program for our March Fourth Tuesday Lunch. Managing Director Aimee Zygmonski will show plans for their new theater and introduce 2016 season productions. We will again enjoy piano music by Elizabeth and Cathy Parisie and clarinet Joe Parisie. Come enjoy a fine Nancy Cheney meal, Santa Cruz Shakespeare program, and piano and clarinet music.
