

🌲 A VERY MERRY DECEMBER! 🌲

❄️ Oh the weather outside IS frightful. Rain, all of the rain for the next two days. But, what perfect weather to stay in and stitch! Grab a mug of tea or cocoa, throw on Andy Williams and Bing or watch some, very predictable, Hallmark Christmas movies and stitch away! Eric and I are headed out to Germany to see several cities' Christmas markets. (Christkindlmarkts) On coming home, we will probably be able to fill the roles of Kris and Tanta Kringle with all of the good food and beverage they will have at the ready for us to consume! If you want to see or experience one here in the area, Atlantic Station has one that is good or drive to the Helen area. I hope you have fun decorating, cooking and seeing all of the lights this season! ❄️

JANUARY ITEMS NEEDED:

Girl Caps
Boy Gowns
Boy Changing Pads
Boy Quilts
Girl Sleepers
Girl Sleep Sacks
Girl Receiving Blankets

Items of Note:

* A huge Thank You to the years that Jerry Cox has given Tiny Stitches in his role as treasurer. There is quite a bit of behind the scenes work that comes with this job, and we appreciate every bit of it done for our sweet cause. Well done you, Jerry and thank you to Margaret who was patient while he was taken up with this. The guard is now changing and we welcome Bonnie Echard, Gainesville, as our new treasurer. 😊
