FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Attorney John M. Loalbo Joins Becker Meisel

Livingston, N.J., June 18, 2010 -- The law firm of Becker Meisel has announced the addition of John M. Loalbo, Esq. to serve as Chair of the firm's Trusts and Estates Group. Mr. Loalbo will be resident in the Becker Meisel's Livingston, NJ office.

Mr. Loalbo has an in-depth knowledge of trust and estates law and is recognized as one of the leading probate litigators in the State of New Jersey. His probate litigation practice includes will contests, will and trust reformations, and all other estate and trust litigation. Because of his background in taxation, he regularly handles tax disputes with the Internal Revenue Service and the State of New Jersey, Division of Taxation.

According to Martin L. Borosko, Managing Member of Becker Meisel. "John brings almost twenty-five years of experience and success in handling complex trust and estate matters. Our clients will gain tremendous benefit from that experience, especially today, with our country's estate tax laws and economy both in flux. With his experience, John is able to provide counseling to allow our high net worth clients not only to protect themselves, but in some cases, to actually take advantage of the existing environment."

In addition to his work in trusts and estates, Mr. Loalbo has served as senior business advisor and strategist for an international energy client. This New Jersey and England based company utilizes its patented technology for gasifying organic material, and is active in metal reclamation, waste energy conversion, and environmental cleanup operations. It is anticipating construction of numerous plants in the United States and abroad. Loalbo has also recently begun working with another company relative to its work developing waste to energy plants around the world.

"Becker Meisel's mid-market positioning and the quality of its people make joining the firm a relatively easy decision. It seemed the perfect platform for providing a high level of legal service to my trust and estate as well as energy clients," Mr. Loalbo said.

Loalbo earned his LL.M. in Taxation from Boston University School of Law in 1987, and his J.D. from Gonzaga University School of Law in 1986. He has held positions on both the Boston University Journal of Tax Law and the Canadian-American Law Journal.
