*W*e at Milam Builders realize that the purchase of your new home is probably the largest financial commitment you will make. For this reason, Milam Builders will strive to make the building of your new home an enjoyable experience. We will work with you from the beginning to the final construction as our desire is your complete satisfaction.

Our projects are varied, filling a broad spectrum from custom home building to all phases of home improvement in Pebble Brook, Eastland Green and Brookhaven subdivisions. We have a staffed office and a dedicated team of field personnel working together to service our customers' needs effectively. Our company is small enough so that our clients will not become lost in the process, yet large enough to provide each of them with a full range of goods and services.

We are quality conscious and are committed to building our unique homes as if we were going to live in them. We will be there to assist you in your selections to customize your new home to your personality. There are many styles, colors and choices available to use in decorating to suit your personality and lifestyle.

In each project we undertake, Milam Builders strives to provide our clients with expertise and courteous service. When we start a project, we become partners in the building process. We take that partnership and the responsibility seriously. Our company is built on the continuous precision of our work and the strength of the trust we have earned from the families whose homes we have built or remodeled.

Our business is based on the highest standards of craftsmanship, ethics and financial responsibility. We accept only the highest quality of workmanship and pay attention to the fine details. We are on the jobsite to make sure the work is performed to our satisfaction and to the homeowner's expectations.

We have the resources, expertise and quality management to successfully handle your building projects with the special care and attention you can expect from Milam Builders.
