

First Response Family Forums

Is substance use becoming an issue in your family?
Are you concerned about your family and want to know what to do?

First Response Family Forums invites the opportunity to:

- ✓ Talk briefly about your family issue
- ✓ Get some facts about alcohol and other drugs
- ✓ Tips on navigating the system
- ✓ Information and referral options

A First Response Forum is an opportunity for you to get up to date information in a confidential and supportive environment with other families experiencing issues with substance use.
