Summer Music Camp Instructors

John Barnes has received the Bachelor of Science in Music Education from Duquesne University and the Master of Music in Saxophone Performance at the University of Florida. Mr. Barnes has completed his Level IV training in Orff-Schulwerk at George Mason University and is certified in Orff-Schulwerk pedagogy. He is a member of MENC: The National Association for Music Education, The Mid-Atlantic Chapter of the American Orff-Schulwerk Association and the National American Orff-Schulwerk Association. 2009-10 will be his sixth year teaching at Sully Elementary in Loudoun County, Virginia. He also maintains a private saxophone studio and is a board member at large of the Middle Atlantic Chapter of the American Orff-Schulwerk Association.

Laura Bercaw Petersen is in her third year of teaching general and choral music at St. Patrick's Episcopal Day School in Washington, D.C. In addition to teaching kindergarten, grades four, five and six general music, Laura's duties include directing the Young Singers and the Orff Ensemble. She previously taught in Montgomery County Public Schools and Alexandria City Public Schools. Laura earned her Bachelor of Science in Music Education from Gettysburg College and will complete her Master of Music in Music Education at George Mason University in May 2010. In addition to earning Level III certification in Orff-Schulwerk from George Mason University, Laura has also completed the Orff-Schulwerk Level IV Master Level. She is an active member of the American Orff-Schulwerk Association, American Choral Director's Association and MENC: The National Association of Music Education, attending workshops and conferences throughout the school year and summer. Additionally, Laura serves as Treasurer on the board of the Middle Atlantic Chapter of the American Orff-Schulwerk Association.
