Texas Energy Group, LLC (TEG) Announces Continued Returns for Investors in the Cleveland Six Project

Texas Energy Group, LLC (TEG) would like to formally announce the continued production and returns yielded from the Cleveland Six Project, which has been producing since 2007.

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Austin, TX – July 3, 2012- Texas Energy Group, LLC (TEG) is pleased to announce that the Cleveland Six Project, which was put on line back in October 2007, is on target to yield approximate 21% cash on cash return annually to its Investors.

Nearing its sixth year of production, TEG's internal calculations for the Cleveland Six Project shows monthly returns (ROIs) in excess of 1.8% monthly or 21.6% annualized," stated Waylan Johnson, President of Texas Energy Group, LLC.

This project is similar to many in the area that have shown a strong longevity with a potential of 20-30 years of production because of the water drive reservoir the oil is coming from. Mr. Johnson stated, "We have 6-7 additional prospects in this area that will fill our drilling budget and allow our partners to continue to take advantage of this field for the next 2-3 years. We are appreciative of the opportunity to be drilling in the Gulf Coast, which we consider our own backyard."
