

Tiny Stitches
Newsletter
January 2016

From the Business Meeting

Our storage unit has a leak. A container has been put under the leak, but it is easily moved. If you go into unit 548, be sure the container is under the leak (the ceiling is split where it leaks) when you leave. Also don't put finished items in that area.

We were scheduled to deliver 48 layette and 12 burials this month, but Jill had too many to fit in her car, so final numbers will be available later.

We have had a couple of donations of fabric, but it will need to be sorted to see how much we can use.

We were short of sleep sacks, boy lap front shirts, quilts and tote bags. This was probably due to some workshops not meeting in December. Thanks to those who sewed items so we could meet our requests. We did substitute afghans for some quilts.

The Alpharetta was getting some quilts from a quilt guild, but will no longer be getting them. This may cause us to be short of quilts again.

We need to have a warehouse work day to move some of the fabric in unit 531 into the other units and to sort through some fabric donations. Also we need to take some of the fabric from Aramark off the rolls and fold it. This will be on Wednesday, February 17th, starting about 10AM.

Michelle Murray's father had a stroke recently.

We need pin cushions for Expo in March. They are made from 4"x4" squares of fabric. Instructions will be on the web site shortly.

Needs for This Month

Gowns
Sleepers
Lap Front shirts
Large Tote Bags
Sleep Sacks
Quilts
Receiving Blankets

Upcoming Meetings

Pre-pack will be January 27, 2016, 9:30 AM at Your Extra Attic, 130 Peachtree Industrial Blvd., Sugar Hill
Business Meeting will be February 1, 2016, 10:15 AM at Atlanta Sewing Center, 2148 Duluth Hwy., Duluth