

March/April 2015 Edition

Selectronic Security Group 2429 Eastbrook Rd New Castle, PA 16105 888-695-7277 www.SelectronicSecurityGroup.com

Now that it looks like winter is behind us, we can look forward to spring and the onset of warmer weather. Home and business break-ins increase with the change in weather so be more aware of unfamiliar vehicles in your neighborhood. If you own a "brick and mortar" business take notice of unusual activity or persons in or around your building and don't hesitate to contact your local police dept. We hope you enjoy this edition of SECURITY NEWSLINE. Thank you to our customers for your business and our ProPartners for your continued referrals.

Teach Your Children The S.T.O.P. Child Abduction Program

Use the stop sign to teach your kids some basic rules that can help keep him or her safe when you're not around.

Stop – Think – Object – and Proceed

Rule #1: "S" stands for STOP. If your child is approached by a person, or feels uncomfortable, he/she is to "stop" what he/she is doing.

Rule #2: "T" stands for THINK. He/she needs to "think" if the person is a stranger (anyone who has never been invited over to our house before) and if SO...

Rule #3: "O" stands for OBJECT. "Object" to what the stranger wants or is talking about by saying "no". And, if the stranger continues closer...

Rule #4: "P" stands for PROCEED. Your child should "proceed" away from the stranger as fast as possible and run to a safe place where there are other people and ask for help.

Fire Prevention & Awareness

Fire safety, fire awareness and fire prevention are topics that should be incorporated into every curriculum for educating all ages. Awareness first starts in the home and with the parents but if parents aren't informed then their children will not be uninformed. For more information and some valuable resources relative to fire safety and awareness which can make your home and family more secure, visit our website today at www.SelectronicSecurityGroup.com and click on the "Reference Room" tab at the top right of the website.
