WALKING WITH GOD

By Tom Moore

"Enoch walked with God after he begat Methuselah three hundred years, and begat sons and daughters: and all the days of Enoch were three hundred sixty and five years: and Enoch walked with God: and he was not; for God took him" (Gen. 5:22-24)

Our surroundings in this world have been marred by sin as is seen in the statement of John, "the whole world lieth in the evil one" (1 Jn. 5:19). God, though, has made it possible for us to "walk" with Him. We can yield our decisions and our deeds to Him in such a way that we actually become "companions" of the very God who created us. "If we walk in the light, as he is in the light, we have fellowship one with another, and the blood of Jesus his Son cleanseth us from all sin" (1 Jn. 1:7). The possibility of such a thing suggests some important truths about God Himself, does it not?

For one thing, it is remarkable that God offers to every single one of us the possibility of walking with Him. No matter how any of us have wrecked our pasts, God is willing for us to walk with Him the rest of the way home, if we will accept His pardon on His terms. This privilege is not limited to those born into any certain class of humanity, nor does it require any special intellectual powers.

5TH SUNDAY CONTRIBUTION

This month the 5th Sunday contribution will go to Rick Popejoy for the door knocking campaign in Lubbock to help provide housing for the workers. coming in from Houston.

“And Peter opened his mouth and said, Of a truth I perceive that God is no respecter of persons: but in every nation he that feareth him, and worketh righteousness, is acceptable to him” (Acts 10:34-35). Walking with God simply means that we faithfully follow His commands. What we need in religion is not new light, but new sight; not new paths, but new strength to walk in the old ones; not new duties, but new strength to fulfill those that are plain. In the words of an old preacher that I admire, “Now that’s simple, and that’s plain, and you can understand it.”

But if there can be such a thing as walking with God, there must also be such a thing as not walking with Him. If, for example, the lifestyle of Enoch's degraded contemporaries established just as much a walk with God as that of Enoch himself, then the statement "Enoch walked with God" would mean very little. But surely this is not a meaningless statement. We are being told that Enoch made certain choices concerning God and that these choices had their consequence in a "walk" that would have been impossible otherwise. To realize this is to be sobered in our thinking concerning the importance of faithful obedience to our God. “He hath showed thee, O man, what is good; and what doth Jehovah require of thee, but to do justly, and to love kindness, and to walk humbly with thy God” (Mic. 6:8). And remember, “Shall two walk together, except they have agreed?” (Amos 3:3).

Neither the freedom of walking with God nor the destination can be ours without radical repentance and redirection of our hearts. One author said, "Father, set me free in the glory of thy will, so that I will only do as thou willest. Thy will be at once thy perfection and mine. Thou alone art deliverance - absolute safety from every cause and kind of trouble that ever existed, anywhere now exists, or ever can exist in thy universe."

Always remember, when we walk with God,
we get where He is going.
