*Visas

The United Kingdom requires all military dependents, government employees, contractors and their dependents to possess either a prior entry clearance (PEC) visa or a resident permit (RP)in their passports, the PEC is issued outside of the UK so for those that received visas before PCSing to the UK you will have the brown PEC that should be valid till your DEROS Date, for those that extended or for children born in the UK, you will have the pink RP, that was issued at the UK Border Agency in Croydon, again this should be valid to your current DEROS date.

(Prior Entry Clearance Visa)

(Resident Permit)

These visas are proof that you can enter and reside in the UK, it is imperative that EVERY time you leave the UK and want to enter back in that you have the passport that has your UK Visa in it, you can use your Blue Tourist Passport to enter the countries you are visiting but you must use your passport that contains your UK Visa to enter the UK upon your return.
